MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs Kyle Dei Rossi and Mark Linthicum (collectively, the “Class Representatives” or the “Plaintiffs”), through their Court-appointed counsel Bursor & Fisher, P.A., and Faruqi & Faruqi, LLP (collectively, “Class Counsel”), respectfully submit this memorandum of points and authorities in support of their amended motion for approval of an award of attorneys’ fees, reimbursement of litigation costs and expenses, and payment of service awards in connection with the class-wide settlement of this action.¹

As set forth in more detail in the Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement (which is incorporated herein by reference), pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, Settlement Class Members may claim either (1) a $55 cash payment, less any voluntary payment paid by Whirlpool through Whirlpool’s Voluntary Customer Satisfaction Program, or (2) a 10% rebate of the purchase price of a new KitchenAid-brand major appliance. 2/5/2016 Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher (“2/5/2016 Fisher Decl.”), Ex. A § IV.B-C (Dkt. No. 173-1). This payment is not subject to pro rata dilution or reduction by any payment to Class Counsel. Id. The Settlement Class is defined to include:

[A]ll residents of the State of California who (a) bought a new Class Refrigerator, (b) acquired a Class Refrigerator as part of the purchase or remodel of a home, or (c) received as a gift, from a donor meeting the requirements of either subsection (a) or subsection (b), a new Class Refrigerator not used by the donor or by anyone else after the donor bought or acquired the Class Refrigerator and before the donor gave the Class Refrigerator to the California resident.

Id. at § I.OO.

This is an excellent recovery for Class Members. The heart of Plaintiffs’ claim is that Whirlpool’s conduct caused Class Members to suffer increased energy costs. SAC ¶ 97. Plaintiffs’ damages expert Colin Weir calculated that Whirlpool caused Class Members to face

¹ The Class Action Settlement Agreement and Release of all Claims (“Settlement” or “Settlement Agreement”) and its exhibits are attached as Exhibit A to the Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher (“Fisher Decl.”), filed with the Motion for Preliminary Approval, Dkt. No. 173. All capitalized terms herein that are not otherwise defined have the definitions set forth in the Settlement Agreement.

1 $66.65 in increased energy expenses over the average life of their Refrigerators. See 7/31/2014
2 Declaration of Colin Weir (“Weir Decl.”), at 7. The Settlement thus provides Class Members with 3 an 82.5% ($55/$66.65) recovery of the increased energy costs without the delay or the risk of 4 continued litigation. To date, the response to the Settlement has been entirely positive – no Class 5 Members have opted out or objected. See Supplemental Declaration of Kathleen Wyatt (Dkt. No.
6 180-2), ¶¶ 9-10.

7 Class Counsel request that the Court approve a total payment of $735,000 as an award of 8 attorneys’ fees, and as reimbursement of out-of-pocket costs and expenses. Declaration of L. Timothy 9 Fisher in Support of Amended Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and Expenses (the 10 “4/17/2017) Fisher Decl.”), ¶ 3. As explained below, the lodestar technique confirms that the amount 11 of attorneys’ fees and expenses is fair, reasonable, and supported by the law of this Circuit. See infra.
12 Class Counsel collectively worked 3,432.85 hours on this case for a total lodestar, at current billing 13 rates, of $1,712,709.50. 3/3/2017 Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher in Support of Motions for Final 14 Approval of Class Action Settlement and for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and Expenses, 15 and Service Awards (the “3/3/2017 Fisher Decl.”) (Dkt. No. 180-1), ¶¶ 43-45, Ex. B; Declaration of 16 Antonio Vozzolo in Support of Amended Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and 17 Expenses (the “4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl.”), ¶¶ 12-17, 22-23, Ex. C, Ex. D. Furthermore, Class Counsel 18 incurred $72,754.31 in expenses and costs that were necessary to the prosecution of this case, and were 19 carefully and reasonably expended. See 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 48-49, Ex. C (an itemized listing of 20 each out-of-pocket expense incurred by Bursor & Fisher in connection with this case); 4/17/17 Vozzolo 21 Decl., ¶ 24, Ex. E (same). Rather than seeking their full lodestar plus expenses, Class Counsel have, 22 after extensive negotiations with Defendant, agreed to request an award that represents a significant 23 reduction to their estimated fees and expenses. 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 3. This reduced request is 24 presumptively reasonable and should be approved by this Court. See Zakskorn v. Am. Honda Motor 25 Co., 2015 WL 3622990, at *15 (E.D. Cal. June 9, 2015) (Bursor & Fisher agreed to a .75 inverse 26 multiplier and Judge Kimberly Mueller granted their fee request in full).

1 The Parties agreed to this amount long after the other substantive settlement terms were 2 resolved and submitted to the Court for approval. 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 4. Accordingly, this 3 requested amount is the result of an arm’s-length market transaction. Id.

4 Finally, Plaintiffs Dei Rossi and Linthicum request that the Court award them service awards in 5 the amount of $4,000 each to account for the significant time and effort they invested in this case on 6 behalf of the Class.

7 II. BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

8 The Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement (which is incorporated herein by 9 reference), as well as the Declaration of L. Timothy Fisher, submitted herewith, contain a detailed 10 discussion of the long history of this vigorously contested action. Of particular relevance to this 11 motion, Section VIII of the original Settlement Agreement acknowledged that Class Counsel is 12 entitled to a payment of attorneys’ fees and permits Class Counsel to petition the Court for a 13 reasonable award of attorneys’ fees, costs, and expenses. 2/5/2016 Fisher Decl., Ex. A § VIII (Dkt.
14 No. 173-1). Despite this acknowledgement, the original Settlement Agreement contained no “clear 15 sailing” agreement. Id.

16 Plaintiffs Kyle Dei Rossi and Mark Linthicum (“Plaintiffs”) filed their Motion for an 17 Award of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and Expenses and Service Awards on March 3, 2017. Since the 18 filing of that motion, the parties have reached agreement on the amount of attorneys’ fees, costs
19 and expenses to be paid to Class Counsel, subject to the Court’s approval. 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., 20 ¶¶ 3-4, Ex. A, Addendum to the Settlement Agreement (the “Addendum”). In accordance with the 21 Addendum, Plaintiffs withdrew their March 3, 2017 Motion for an Award of Attorneys’ Fees, 22 Costs and Expenses, and Service Awards (Dkt. No. 181). 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 3; see also 23 Dkt. Nos. 182 and 183. Plaintiffs file this amended motion to apprise the Court of the Addendum 24 and to alter the requested fees costs and expense to correctly reflect the terms of the Addendum.
25 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 3. Plaintiffs and Defendant agreed to a fee and expense award of 26 $735,000. Id. Importantly, this requested award is separate and apart from class recovery. See 27 Addendum § VIII.

1 Section VIII.D of the Settlement Agreement also provides that Whirlpool shall not oppose a 2 Service Award of $4,000 dollars to each of the Class Representatives. 2/5/2016 Fisher Decl., Ex.
3 A § VIII.D (Dkt. No. 173-1); Addendum § VIII.D. Class Counsel are requesting that the Class
4 Representatives receive these Service Awards of $4,000 each to compensate them for their efforts 5 in pursuing litigation on behalf of the Settlement Class. Id.

6 III. THE CLRA PROVIDES FOR A MANDATORY AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES
7 TO CLASS COUNSEL

8 The Class Representatives brought claims against Defendants under various theories, 9 including under California's Consumers Legal Remedies Act, Civil Code §§ 1750, et seq. (the 10 "CLRA"). For CLRA claims, an award of fees to the prevailing party is mandatory under Civil 11 Code § 1780(e), which provides: "The court shall award court costs and attorney's fees to a 12 prevailing plaintiff in litigation filed pursuant to this section." As the California Court of Appeal 13 has explained, for a Court in construing this provision:

14 The word 'shall' is usually deemed mandatory, unless a mandatory construction 15 would not be consistent with the legislative purpose underlying the statute." (West 16 Shield Investigations and Sec. Consultants v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal. App.
17 4th 935, 949, 98 Cal.Rptr.2d 612.) Our Supreme Court has observed that "the 18 availability of costs and attorneys fees to prevailing plaintiffs is integral to making 19 the CLRA an effective piece of consumer legislation, increasing the financial feasibility of bringing suits under the statute." (Broughton v. Cigna Healthplans (1999) 21 Cal. 4th 1066, 1085, 90 Cal. Rptr. 2d 334, 998 P.2d 67.) Thus, a mandatory construction of the word "shall" in section 1780(d) is consistent with the legislative purpose underlying the statute.

20 Kim v. Euromotors West/The Auto Gallery, 149 Cal. App. 4th 170, 178 (2007).

21 Here, Class Counsel negotiated a settlement that will provide Class Members with a 22 recovery of 82.5% of the increased energy damages at issue. Plaintiffs have thus succeeded by 23 realizing their litigation objectives in large part. As the Settlement Class is the "prevailing party," 24 a fee award to Class Counsel is mandatory under the CLRA. Graciano v. Robinson Ford Sales, 25 Inc., 144 Cal. App. 4th 140, 150–51 (2006).

1 IV. THE REQUESTED FEE IS FAIR AND REASONABLE UNDER LODESTAR
2 PRINCIPLES

3 Under Ninth Circuit standards, a court may award attorneys' fees based on the "lodestar" 4 method where there is no formal common fund, taking into account numerous factors as described, 5 infra. Fischel v. Equitable Life Assur. Soc'y, 307 F.3d 997, 1006 (9th Cir. 2002); Hanlon v.
6 Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1029 (9th Cir. 1998). This is because courts awarding fees in 7 class-action settlements in the Ninth Circuit have discretion to use either the lodestar or the 8 percentage of common fund approach. See In re Washington Pub. Power Supply Sys. Sec. Litig., 9 19 F.3d 1291, 1296 (9th Cir. 1994) (holding that district court did not abuse discretion in choosing 10 lodestar method). While the percentage method may be preferred for its ease of application in 11 cases involving a capped common fund, the lodestar approach is the most straightforward here 12 because the settlement structure places no cap on Whirlpool's total liability and does not include a 13 common fund. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029 (affirming choice of lodestar method where calculation 14 of value of common fund was uncertain); Grays Harbor Adventist Christian School v. Carrier 15 Corp., No. 05-cv-05437, 2008 WL 1901988 (W.D. Wash. April 24, 2008) (holding that where 16 "[s]ettlement relief will be paid on a claims-made basis with no cap to the relief available, 17 consideration of attorneys' fees lends itself more readily to the lodestar method").

18 The lodestar figure is calculated by multiplying the hours reasonably spent on the case by 19 appropriate hourly rates based on the locale and attorney experience. See, e.g., In re Bluetooth 20 Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 941-942 (9th Cir. 2011); Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029. The 21 resulting lodestar figure may be adjusted upward or downward by use of a multiplier to account for 22 factors including, but not limited to: (i) the quality of the representation; (ii) the benefit obtained 23 for the class; (iii) the complexity and novelty of the issues presented; and (iv) the risk of 24 nonpayment. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029; see also Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc., 526 F.2d 67, 25 70 (9th Cir. 1975).² Courts typically apply a multiplier or enhancement to the lodestar to account

26 ² Kerr identifies twelve factors for analyzing the reasonableness of an attorneys' fees request:

- 27 (1) The time labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved; 28 (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly; (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to acceptance of the case; (5) the customary fee; (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) time limitations imposed by the

1 for the substantial risk that plaintiffs’ counsel undertook by accepting a case where no payment
2 would be received if the lawsuit did not succeed. Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 3 1051 (9th Cir. 2002). Thus, a fee that approximates lodestar is considered presumptively
4 reasonable. See Morales v. City of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 363-64, fn. 8 (9th Cir. 1996) (“There 5 is a strong presumption that the lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee.”). Fee requests which 6 produce an inverse lodestar multiplier further support an inference of reasonableness. See, e.g., In 7 re Portal Software, Inc. Sec. Litig., 2007 WL 4171201, at *16 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2007) (“The 8 resulting so-called negative multiplier suggests that the percentage-based amount is reasonable and 9 fair based on the time and effort expended by class counsel.”); Schiller v. David's Bridal, Inc., 2012 10 WL 2117001, at *23 (E.D. Cal. June 11, 2012) (“An implied negative multiplier supports the 11 reasonableness of the percentage fee request”); Zakskorn, 2015 WL 3622990, at *15 (finding fee 12 request reasonable where class counsel voluntarily agreed to an inverse multiplier of .75).

13 Here, Class Counsel request an award of $735,000 for both attorneys’ fees and costs.
14 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 3. After extensive negotiation with Defendant, Class Counsel agreed to 15 reduce their lodestar by over $1,000,000. Id. Because this amount is well within Ninth Circuit
16 standards, this Court should award the requested attorneys’ fees, costs and expenses to Class 17 Counsel.

18 A. Class Counsel Spent a Reasonable Number of Hours on this 19 Litigation

20 Class Counsel’s declarations describe the extensive work performed in connection with this 21 litigation over the past five years. Bursor & Fisher and Faruqi & Faruqi carefully coordinated their 22 work throughout this litigation to avoid any duplication of effort. To support this request, Class 23 Counsel are separately submitting their detailed daily billing records showing what work was done

25 client or the circumstances; (8) the amount involved and the results obtained; (9) the 26 experience, reputation, and the ability of the attorneys; (10) the ‘undesirability’ of 27 the case; (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; 28 and (12) awards in similar cases.

2 22-23, Ex. C, Ex. D.

3 This was a novel case that involved a significant amount of original work involving (1) 4 extensive pre-litigation investigation including retaining an independent expert to review the 5 energy usage of Defendant’s refrigerators and to provide a detailed analysis of each product’s 6 energy consumption and associated costs; (2) searching publicly available sources to locate and 7 analyze available documents related to the Energy Star program and Defendant’s refrigerators, 8 including the U.S. Department of Energy’s guidelines and notices of noncompliance with the 9 applicable federal energy conservation standards; (3) consulting with energy efficiency experts; (4) 10 conducting extensive legal research and preparing numerous briefs and amended complaints to 11 overcome Whirlpool’s repeated motions to dismiss; (5) reviewing documents and listening to 12 statements from putative class members relating to the practices described in the complaints, 13 including written and oral descriptions by individuals who have purchased refrigerators from 14 Defendant; (6) examining and analyzing information, documents, and materials that enabled Class 15 Counsel to assess the likelihood of success on the merits; (7) moving for class certification and 16 opposing Defendant’s motions to strike Plaintiffs’ expert witnesses; (8) working with Plaintiffs’ 17 economic expert to develop unique damages models consistent with the allegations in this action; 18 (9) successfully opposing Whirlpool’s petition to appeal the Court’s class certification order; and 19 (10) developing and executing settlement strategies. 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 2-36; see also 20 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 6. This case was hard-fought for more than five years and concerned 21 complex factual and legal allegations. Given the technical nature of the litigation, the tenacious 22 battles over the pleadings and class certification and the difficulty of the settlement negotiations, 23 the number of hours Class Counsel spent was reasonable.

24 B. Class Counsel Worked at a Reasonable Hourly Rate

25 The hourly rates for each of the lawyers who staffed the case, which are set forth in the 26 accompanying declarations and exhibits thereto, are reasonable and commensurate with rates 27 approved in other class actions litigated in this District. See 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 45, 47, 50-54, 28 Ex. B; 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 18-20, 22, 25-30, Ex. C, Ex. D. Rates are “reasonable where they

1 [are] similar to those charged in the community and approved by other courts.” Hartless v. Clorox
2 Co., 273 F.R.D. 630, 644 (S.D. Cal. Jan. 20, 2011). However, this is not an absolute rule because 3 “[t]o insist on awarding significantly-lower hourly rates in the Eastern District that those in the 4 other judicial districts in California would discourage attorneys from bringing meritorious lawsuits 5 in this district.” Adoma v. Univ. of Phoenix, Inc., 913 F. Supp. 2d 964, 984 (E.D. Cal. 2012); see 6 also Zakskorn, 2015 WL 3622990, at *14 (same).

7 Regardless, courts within this District have repeatedly held rates commensurate with Class 8 Counsel’s rates to be fair and reasonable. See Taylor v. FedEx Freight, Inc., 2016 WL 6038949, at 9 *7 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 13, 2016) (finding class counsel rates of $525/hour for senior associates and 10 $700/hour for the senior partner in this District reasonable). Indeed, courts within this District 11 have previously found the rates of Class Counsel fair and reasonable. See Zakskorn, 2015 WL 12 3622990, at *13–15 (order from Judge Mueller approving a fee request where Bursor & Fisher 13 submitted hourly rates of up to $850 per hour for partners and $450 per hour for associates).
14 Here, Class Counsel’s rates are particularly reasonable because the requested fee is a fraction of 15 Class Counsel’s lodestar. See id. at *14-15 (finding the rates reasonable and fair in light of “the 16 application of an inverse multiplier.”).

17 C. The Requested Fee is Particularly Reasonable in Light of the 18 Relevant Factors

19 The lodestar analysis is not limited to the simple mathematical calculation of Class Counsel’s 20 base fee. See Morales, supra, 96 F.3d at 363-64. Rather, Class Counsel’s actual lodestar may be 21 enhanced according to those factors that have not been “subsumed within the initial calculation of hours 22 reasonably expended at a reasonable rate.” Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 434 n.9 (1983)
23 (citation omitted); see also Morales, 96 F.3d at 364. In a historical review of numerous class action 24 settlements, the Ninth Circuit found that lodestar multipliers normally range from 0.6 to 19.6, with most 25 (83%) falling between 1 and 4. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051, fn.6; see also Alba Conte & Herbert B.
26 Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions § 14:03 (3d ed. 1992) (recognizing that multipliers of 1 to 4 are 27 frequently awarded).
28

1 In considering the reasonableness of attorneys' fees and any requested multiplier, the Ninth 2 Circuit has directed district courts to consider the time and labor required, the novelty and complexity 3 of the litigation, the skill and experience of counsel, the results obtained, and awards in similar cases.
4 Kerr, 526 F.2d at 70; Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 898-900 (1984). All of these factors further 5 support the reasonableness of the requested fee award in this action. Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051.

6 1. Novelty and Complexity of this Litigation

7 The novelty and complexity of this case strongly supports the requested fee. This case was 8 one of the first cases filed in California by a purchaser of an Energy Star product asserting 9 mislabeling claims due to noncompliance with the Energy Star program requirements. 3/3/2017
10 Fisher Decl., ¶ 2. Class Counsel faced difficult and novel legal and factual issues, which required 11 creativity and presented significant challenges. In particular, Class Counsel had to establish that 12 the Energy Star logo is a warranty sufficient to support a claim for breach of express warranty.
13 Fisher Decl., ¶ 2. In fact, the battle over the pleadings lasted nearly two years and posed a 14 significant risk to the viability of the case. Id. at ¶¶ 6-18. Class Counsel also had to work with 15 their economic expert to develop two unique damages models consistent with their theory of 16 liability. Id. at ¶ 23. Whirlpool focused its class certification opposition on Plaintiffs' damages 17 models and retained several prominent experts to challenge those models. If the Court had found 18 those models insufficient, class certification would have been denied and the case would have been 19 effectively over. Class Counsel resolved each of these complex issues in turn after a hard-fought 20 battle with Defendant and became the first lawyers to obtain class certification in an Energy Star 21 lawsuit in the United States. Id. More importantly, Class Counsel subsequently reached a 22 settlement that provides Class Members with an 82.5% recovery of their damages. In light of the 23 novelty and complexity of this case, the trailblazing work it required, and concomitant risks to 24 counsel, a substantially higher fee request would be justified.

25 2. Class Counsel Provided Exceptional Representation 26 Prosecuting this Complex Case

27 Class Counsel respectfully submit that they conducted themselves in this action in a 28 professional, diligent and efficient manner. Class Counsel are highly-respected and experienced

1 leaders in the field of consumer class action litigation. See 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 37-41, Ex. A;
2 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 7-11, Ex. A, Ex. B. Tasks were allocated to prevent “over-lawyering” 3 and inefficiency. The bulk of the work was performed by a small number of attorneys fully 4 familiar with the complex factual and legal issues presented by this litigation. This division of 5 labor permitted the work to be done efficiently, resulting in an economy of service and avoiding 6 duplication of effort.

7 Class Counsel invested a substantial amount of time and resources into investigating and 8 prosecuting the matters alleged in this action. See supra IV(A); see also 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶
9 2-36; see also 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 6. The successful conclusion of this litigation required 10 Class Counsel to commit a significant amount of time, personnel, and expenses, on a contingency 11 basis, with absolutely no guarantee of being compensated in the end.

12 Additionally, the ability of Class Counsel to obtain a favorable settlement in the face of a 13 high-caliber adversary also reflects the superior quality of Class Counsel’s work. See, e.g., In re 14 Warner Commc’ns Sec. Litig., 618 F. Supp. 735, 749 (S.D.N.Y. 1985); In re King Res. Co. Sec.
15 Litig., 420 F. Supp. 610, 635–36 (D. Colo. 1976). Defendant is represented by Wheeler Trigg 16 O’Donnell, LLP, a prominent and respected law firm with more than 100 lawyers and extensive 17 experience in class action litigation. Class Counsel’s ability to obtain a favorable settlement in the 18 face of this sophisticated and skilled adversary reflects the superior quality of their work.

19 3. Class Counsel Obtained Excellent Class Benefits

20 The Settlement provides significant relief for the Class. Despite the novelty of the claims, 21 the lack of controlling authority, and disagreement among the only other courts to have considered 22 a similar cause of action, Class Counsel negotiated a Settlement that provides Class Members with 23 an 82.5% recovery of the damages estimated by Plaintiffs’ expert. This monetary relief directly 24 addresses Plaintiffs’ primary allegations. In fact, Plaintiffs’ damages expert calculated that 25 Whirlpool’s conduct caused Class Members to face $66.65 in increased energy expenses. See 26 7/31/2014 Weir Decl., at 7. The Settlement provides Class Members with the option of a $55 cash
27 recovery. 2/5/2016 Fisher Decl., Ex. A § VIII.B (Dkt. No. 173-1). This is an 82.5% (55/66.65)
28 recovery of the increased energy costs over the life associated with the Refrigerator. Class

1 members will receive this significant financial recovery now, without the delay and the risk of 2 continued litigation. As such, the results achieved by Class Counsel strongly support the fee
3 request. See Shames v. Hertz Corp., 2012 WL 5392159 at *7 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2012) (approving 4 Plaintiff's fee request of $5,123,336.00, a 20% lodestar reduction, where a claims-made settlement 5 provided a cash recovery of 67% of actual damages).

6 Class Counsel avoided considerable burdens and expenses to the Parties and the judicial 7 system by conducting a thorough investigation and achieving a favorable Settlement. The results 8 achieved by Class Counsel here fully justify the requested fee.

9 4. Class Counsel Faced a Substantial Risk of Nonpayment

10 A critical factor bearing on fee petitions in the Ninth Circuit is the level of risk of non-11 payment faced by Class Counsel at the inception of the litigation. See, e.g., Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 12 1048. The contingent nature of Class Counsel's fee recovery, coupled with the uncertainty that any 13 recovery would be obtained, are significant. In re Wash. Pub. Power, 19 F.3d at 1300. In Wash.
14 Pub. Power, the Ninth Circuit recognized that:

15 It is an established practice in the private legal market to reward attorneys for taking 16 the risk of non-payment by paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates 17 for winning contingency cases ... [I]f this 'bonus' methodology did not exist, very 18 few lawyers could take on the representation of a class client given the investment of substantial time, effort, and money, especially in light of the risks of recovering nothing.

19 Id. at 1299-1300 (citations omitted) (internal quotations marks omitted).

20 Throughout this case, Class Counsel expended substantial time and costs to prosecute a 21 class action suit with no guarantee of compensation or reimbursement in the hope of prevailing 22 against a sophisticated Defendant represented by high-caliber attorneys. See 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., 23 ¶¶ 54-56; see 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶¶ 30-31. Class Counsel obtained a highly favorable result 24 for the Class, knowing that if their efforts were ultimately unsuccessful, they would receive no 25 compensation or reimbursement for their costs. Class Counsel prosecuted the case with the type of 26 vigor and skill required to ensure justice for the Class. This fact alone supports a finding that Class 27 Counsel's requested fee is fair and reasonable.

1 V. DEFENDANT’S AGREEMENT TO THIS AMOUNT ALSO SHOWS THE 2 REASONABLENESS OF THIS REQUEST

3 Defendant, after extensive negotiation, agreed to this fee and expense amount. See 4 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., Ex. A. This is an appropriate factor for the Court to consider in reviewing 5 Plaintiffs’ motion for an award of fees and expenses. The Parties agreed to the substantive terms of 6 the settlement on February 5, 2016. Id. at ¶ 4. It was not until March 31, 2017, more than a year 7 later, that the Parties agreed to the requested fee and expense amount. Id. The substantive terms of 8 the settlement were settled and filed with the Court well before any agreement was reached 9 regarding the requested fee and expense amounts. Id. Indeed, when Plaintiffs originally filed their 10 fee application on March 3, 2017, Defendant had every right to oppose it. See 2/5/2016 Fisher 11 Decl., Ex. A § VIII (Dkt. No. 171-1). Accordingly, there can be no argument that the agreed upon 12 fees and expenses were “traded off” for lesser class consideration. 4/17/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶ 4.

13 In Hensley, the United States Supreme Court held that negotiated attorneys’ fee provisions 14 are the “ideal” toward which the parties should strive: “a request for attorneys’ fees should not 15 result in a second major litigation. 461 U.S. at 437. Ideally, of course, litigants will settle the 16 amount of a fee.” Fee arrangements between plaintiffs and defendants in class actions are to be 17 encouraged, particularly where the record shows the attorneys’ fees to be requested were 18 negotiated separately after the settlement terms of the class claims has been agreed to by the 19 parties, and are to be paid on top of the class consideration. Johnson v. Georgia Highway Express, 20 Inc., 488 F.2d 714, 720 (5th Cir. 1974) (“[I]n cases of this kind, we encourage counsel on both 21 sides to utilize their best efforts to understandingly, sympathetically, and professionally arrive at a 22 settlement as to attorneys’ fees.”).

23 As Judge Posner observed in Matter of Cont’l Illinois Sec. Litig., 962 F.2d 566 (7th Cir.
24 1992), the virtue of negotiated fees by the adversarial parties is that “markets know market value 25 better than judges do.” Id. at 570. Here, the Parties negotiated the amount of fees and expenses set 26 forth in the Addendum under market conditions: Class Counsel wished to maximize fees to 27 compensate them, as the law encourages, for risk, innovation, and delay; Defendant wished to pay 28 the minimum amount it could, as any monies not approved would be retained by them. The result is an arm’s-length negotiated amount set by market forces, and resolved only after the other

1 settlement terms had been agreed to and filed with the Court. Such a process provides further 2 indicia of the reasonableness of this requested amount.

3 VI. CLASS COUNSEL'S EXPENSES ARE REASONABLE AND NECESSARILY 4 INCURRED TO ACHIEVE THE BENEFIT OBTAINED ON BEHALF OF THE 5 CLASS

6 To date, Class Counsel incurred out-of-pocket costs and expenses in the aggregate amount 7 of $72,754.31 in prosecuting this litigation on behalf of the class. 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 48-49, 8 Ex. C; 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 24, Ex. E. These expenses are itemized in the declarations 9 submitted to the Court herewith.

10 The Ninth Circuit allows recovery of pre-settlement litigation costs in the context of a class 11 action settlement. See Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 974 (9th Cir. 2003). Class Counsel is 12 entitled to reimbursement for standard out-of-pocket expenses that an attorney would ordinarily bill 13 a fee paying client. See, e.g., Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994). The incurred 14 costs include court fees, copying fees, courier charges, expert fees, legal research charges, 15 telephone/facsimile fees, travel costs, postage fees, and other related costs. See 3/3/2017 Fisher
16 Decl., ¶¶ 48-49, Ex. C (an itemized listing of each out-of-pocket expense incurred by Bursor & Fisher 17 in connection with this case); 4/17/17 Vozzolo Decl., ¶ 24, Ex. E (same). Each of these costs was 18 necessarily and reasonably incurred to bring this case to a successful conclusion, and they reflect 19 market rates for the various categories of expenses incurred.

20 VII. THE REQUESTED SERVICE AWARDS FOR CLASS REPRESENTATIVES
21 ARE REASONABLE AND STANDARD

22 In recognition of their efforts on behalf of the Class, and subject to the approval of the 23 Court, Defendant has agreed to pay Class Representatives $4,000 each (for a total of $8,000), as 24 appropriate compensation for their time and effort serving as the Class Representatives in this 25 litigation.

26 Service awards “are fairly typical in class action cases.” Rodriguez v. W. Publ'g Corp., 563 27 F.3d 948, 958 (9th Cir. 2009). Such awards “are intended to compensate class representatives for 28 work done on behalf of the class, to make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action, and, sometimes, to recognize their willingness to act as a private attorney

1 general.” Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 958–59. Service awards are committed to the sound discretion of 2 the trial court and should be awarded based upon the court’s consideration of, inter alia, the 3 amount of time and effort spent on the litigation, the duration of the litigation and the degree of 4 personal gain obtained as a result of the litigation. See Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield Co., 901 F.
5 Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. 1995).

6 The requested amounts of $4,000 for each Class Representative reflect the involvement and 7 time each Class Representative dedicated to the case. The involvement of the Class
8 Representatives in this action was critical to the ultimate success of the case. Class Counsel 9 consulted with the Class Representatives throughout the investigation, filing, prosecution and 10 settlement of this litigation. 3/3/2017 Fisher Decl., ¶¶ 57-61. As such, Plaintiff Dei Rossi and 11 Plaintiff Linthicum were actively involved in the litigation and devoted substantial time and effort 12 to the case. They consulted with Class Counsel frequently and reviewed a wide variety of 13 documents related to this case including the complaint and Settlement Agreement. Id. Most 14 importantly, Plaintiffs provided detailed information about their purchases to overcome 15 Whirlpool’s motions to dismiss and sat for depositions. Id. Moreover, Plaintiffs Dei Rossi and 16 Linthicum were prepared to “go the distance” in this litigation to continue to represent the Class 17 and fight to obtain significant relief on their behalf. Id. Their actions and dedication have 18 conferred a significant benefit on Class members across the United States.

19 Accordingly, incentive awards of $4,000 for each of the Class Representatives are fair and 20 reasonable.³

22
23 ³ The payment of service awards to successful class representatives is appropriate and the amount 24 of $4,000 is undoubtedly reasonable when compared to other service awards. See Van Vranken, 901
25 F. Supp. at 299-300 (incentive award of $50,000); Glass v. UBS Fin. Servs., Inc., 2007 WL 26 221862, at *16–17 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 26, 2007), aff’d, 331 F. App’x 452 (9th Cir. 2009) (N.D. Cal.
27 Jan. 26, 2007) (awarding $100,000 divided among four plaintiffs in overtime wages class 28 action); Harris v. Vector Mktg. Corp., 2012 WL 381202, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 6, 2012) (awarding $12,500 service award); Bond v. Ferguson Enterprises, Inc., 2011 WL 2648879, at *15 (E.D. Cal.
June 30, 2011) (approving service awards of $11,250); Trujillo v. City of Ontario, 2009 WL 2632723, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 24, 2009) (approving service awards of $30,000).

VIII. CONCLUSION

Class Counsel were able to obtain a settlement that represents an excellent result for the Class. This Settlement is the culmination of the determined and skilled work of Class Counsel. As a result, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court award the following:

- $735,000 in attorneys' fees and expenses; and
- Service Awards to Class Representatives Dei Rossi and Linthicum of $4,000 each

(for a total of $8,000).

The requests are reasonable and appropriate, and will not reduce the benefits to the class in any way.
